| A typical 1870s-80s period store. Store front plus doorway to side stairs on first storey. Window, etc. may be later but that building was intended for store is shown by double cornice, i.e., a cornice between 1st and 2nd storeys saving as porch over store entrance. The cornices are excellent examples of this period and have a great deal of detail - long double brackets, sawn cut own designs, modillions echoing brackets, etc. 4 second storey windows (2/2) have elliptical arches and a protruding keystone. The red brick is the same color as the Asbury Methodist Church 2 doors west and they complement @ other (also repeated by another Victorian store to the east) Building looks in good shape and could be used as a store - intended and original use. Though a flat roof, it is practically same height as 83 West, next door - an earlier building but both fit well. Recommend removal of Wally Hotel Sign - seems to need only paint. | | | |
